

Terms and Conditions

By accepting the terms and conditions, you're liable for your own actions and further possibilities. As a volunteer,

- It is mandatory that polite manners should be maintained at all times.
- Any action that is instructed by team leaders must be followed responsibly if he/she can't, it is to be delegated to someone and to be informed as early as possible.
- A volunteer must not at any point, abuse the authority given to him/her.
- Volunteers must be able to co-operate with other volunteers. We're working for the same cause, and there mustn't be any misunderstanding within ourselves.
- Volunteers should maintain time constraints; all the time constraints are planned with everyone in the reckoning.
- No volunteers will be allowed to work in more than one team unless there's a natural disaster, i.e. flood, earthquake, or similar other causes. If such a situation arises, we need all hands on deck.
- Volunteers must also comply with our privacy policy that is stated with Terms and Conditions.
- We are a group of young minded people, trying to make our environment a better place to live. Hence your 100% dedication and involvement are required.
- Any willful action that may cause ill – name to us, will lead to disciplinary actions.

Our motto, vision, mission, everything follows one main goal. To make the world a better place to live. We strive hard and well to make that happen!

The terms, conditions and privacy policy are subjected to update frequently as per the modernity and trend. We try to provide timely notification for changes.
